

GREENVILLE GOOD ROADS.

Greenville, Texas, has let the contract to build forty miles of cement roads leading out of that city. The cost of the roads will be $10,000 per mile.—Kaufman Herald.

When Greenville woke up she woke up with her eyes wide open. "Good roads," said Greenville, "is what I have been dreaming about. Now I'm going to translate my dreams into thoroughfares." So determined, Greenville voted $400,000 worth of bonds and sold them. With the proceeds she is getting ready to lay forty miles of paved roads—not macadamized roads, not gravelled roads, not "corduroy roads," but paved roads, roads paved with concrete like a city street. The cost will be ten thousand dollars a mile, which is cheap enough. Permanent good roads are not too dear at any price within the bounds of commercial reason. Greenville and the residents of precinct No. 1, Hunt County, will get more in return for their four hundred thousand dollars of road money than they ever got from any other four hundred thousand dollars expended in their midst. Forty miles of paving in precinct No. 1 will beat a hundred miles of railroad in the same area when it comes to paying profits to the people concerned.—State Press.

Hunt County is going to do something. The people there are going to build roads that will stay with them. They are not going to issue bonds that will run for forty years and build roads that will last only five. They are going to pursue the plan The Eagle has been advocating—the building of PERMANENT roads. Our idea of building roads is, if only one mile a year is built, build it so it will be there till the day of judgment. Temporary road work is the heaviest drain on the people's resources. We are paying now, and have been for years, the enormous sum of $30,000 a year in temporary roads, and what do we get? The condition of our roads during this winter is the answer to that question. Let's build them so they will stay built.

The business man who, in his desire to save expenses, cuts out his advertising, is merely adding that much more weight to his business depression. The time to advertise is all the time, but it is needed more than at any other time when business is dull. Push your business or else it will soon be pushing you.—Bay City Tribune.

Every man who has ever made a success in business attributes his success in a large degree to advertising. This is a day of hustle. The non-advertiser is as dead as a door nail. Those old saws that a "pleased customer is the best advertisement," and that "I never advertise, I let my goods speak for themselves," are but echoes from a dead and buried past. They are favorite epigrams on business tombstones scattered from one end of the country to the other. The man who succeeds in this day of close competition, must make his advertising his first consideration, a regular department of his business, and then watch after it just as closely and give it the same ceaseless attention that he does his stockkeeping and his bookkeeping. Systematic, intelligent advertising will bring the greatest returns in dollars and cents of any energy in effort a business man can expend.

Through the efforts of Secretary Hewitt of the Navasota Chamber of Commerce, large brick manufacturing concerns have been interested in a proposition to put in a brick manufacturing plant at Navasota. At the last meeting of the chamber it was reported that the concerns had "asked that a sample of the clay deposit be shipped to their factory for a test through their mill. They ask for about a ton of clay that a goodly number of brick may be made from it." A brick factory is helpful to a community and The Eagle hopes Navasota may be successful in landing the plant.

The burden of proof in the destruction of vessels in the war zone should be on the destroyer and not on the destroyed. A German naval critic says it is impossible for a submarine to learn the identity of every ship with a neutral flag. Then they should not shoot. The Eagle is for peace, but we would like to see President Wilson inform Germany and all other warring countries that the violation of our flag, except in cases of unavoidable accident, would be followed by a declaration of war.

A Missouri paper says, "We throw away ashes and buy soap. We raise dogs and buy hogs. We catch a 10-cent fish with a $4 rod. We buy school houses and send our children away to be educated. And all of us try to live according to the standard set by those who make just a little more than we do."

President Wilson, by "watching and waiting," kept us out of war with Mexico. But if he keeps us out of the European war, should it be prolonged, he will not only have to watch and wait, but be deaf, dumb and blind.

WISE AND OTHERWISE.

"I'd sooner be a criminal than be married to a woman like Peck's wife."

"What do you mean?"

"Why, a criminal gets one sentence at a time, but poor Peck gets a whole string of sentences every day."—Boston Transcript.

He—You are more beautiful every day.

She (diffidently)—Hardly that, I think. It is just your qualities of perception and taste are growing better.—Richmond Times-Dispatch.

Great souls suffer in silence.—Schiller.

"Mamma, when people are in mourning, do they wear black night gowns?"

"Why, no; of course not."

"Well, don't they feel just as bad at night as they do in the daytime?"—Judge.

Patience is sorrow's salve.—Churchill.

"Pa, I heard Uncle Henry say that he had hatched out a scheme. Hoy could he do that?"

"He probably had his mind set on it."—Boston Record.

The pen became a clarion.—Longfellow.

"A great many people come here Sunday."

"Yes," answered the keeper in the zoo. "And I'm glad of it. It seems to sort of cheer the animals up to see a crowd."—Washington Star.

But fate ordains that dearest friends must part.—Young.

"Then they never have a family jar?"

"They occasionally have what might be termed a family lardner. As aristocratic people, they only quarrel in a very refined way."—Kansas City Journal.

BOY SCOUT NOTES.

At the last meeting the following boys applied for membership: Phocion Park, Milton Fountain, Manley Weaver and George McMichael. They will be received into the troop as soon as they meet the requirements.

Last Saturday the Boy Scouts hiked to Carter's creek. The hike was well attended and all who went enjoyed themselves immensely. Several passed some of the requirements for becoming second class scouts.

A new rule has just been passed that each week two of the tenderfoot class be appointed to clean up the scout room. So far those who have been appointed have done their duty well, and have added much to the appearance of the quarters.

Since Prof. Simpson has become scoutmaster the following have applied for membership and have been received into the troop: John King, Byron McKnight, Edwin Rogers, Elbert Robertson, Douglas Robertson, Richard Scharr, Ollie Miller, Chester Higgs, Arthur Watts, Will Gibbs, Jack Howell, Lamar Jones and Emmett Wallace. Phocion Park, George McMichael, Milton Fountain and Manley Weaver have applied for membership and Edgar Derden has been reinstated, making a total of fourteen new members, not counting those who have applied but have not yet qualified.

Scout Alex Harris, who is president of the troop, has recently been operated on at the hospital. At all times in his illness he has carried out one point in the scout law: "A scout is cheerful." All the scouts sympathize with him and hope that he will soon be back.

At the last meeting a motion was made that all scouts who are tardy at a meeting shall be fined five cents. The motion carried and all scouts are warned to be on time hereafter.

K. T. INSTALLATION.

Following are the officers installed by Ivanhoe Commandery, Knights Templar, at their last regular meeting to serve during the ensuing year: P. S. Park, eminent commander; R. A. Harrison, generalissimo; T. K. Lawrence, captain general; W. E. Saunders, recorder; General H. B. Stoddard, prelate; R. W. Howell, treasurer; Dr. O. M. Ball, senior warden; H. L. Lewis, junior warden; O. E. Saunders, warder; R. E. Cole, standard bearer; Ed S. Derden, sword bearer; Frank Webb, sentinel.

WISE AND OTHERWISE.

"So you're a critic, eh?"

"Yes, ma'am."

"Tell me, doesn't anything ever please you?"—Detroit Free Press.

"I have called a conference of leading citizens to consider assisting the starving people of Europe."

"I'll provide a nice lunch for those who come."

"No; leave out the lunch. Let 'em feel how it is to go hungry. They'll appreciate the situation better."—Kansas City Journal.

NEW Y. M. C. A. TO BE DEDICATED

Visitors Coming to College From All
Parts of State—Dedication
Proper at 3, Reception at 8.

Houston alumni of the A. & M. College are making elaborate plans for attending the dedication of the handsome new Y. M. C. A. building at the college Sunday, according to advices received at College today from Col. E. B. Cushing of Houston. Col. Cushing, who is retiring president of the board of directors of the college, also is president of the board of directors of the Y. M. C. A. He is on the program to deliver an address Sunday.

The dedication of the handsome new building will attract a large attendance from Houston, Dallas, Waco, Fort Worth and other cities of Texas. The dedicatory exercises proper will be held at 3 o'clock Sunday afternoon. John H. Kirby, a liberal donor to the building, which was erected by popular subscription, will deliver the principal address.

At 8 o'clock Sunday night in the Y. M. C. A. building an informal reception, followed by a sacred concert, will be held. L. A. Coulter, State secretary of the Texas Y. M. C. A., will speak at that time.

At the afternoon service Dr. Bizzell, president of the college, will be another speaker. The afternoon services will be held in the college chapel. The Y. M. C. A. building was erected by popular subscription at a cost of $75,000. It is regarded as one of the most handsome association buildings in the South.

The annual meeting of the Texas State Y. M. C. A. convenes at the college February 18-21 and the sessions will be held in this building.

Bryan played a big part in the erection of this building, the gifts from the citizens and institutions of that city being unusually liberal. Those in charge of the program for Sunday have urged that the Bryan people attend the exercises both in the afternoon and at night.

With the splendid service offered by the Bryan and College Interurban it is now possible for a person to go and return to College almost at will.

The program in full follows:
At the college chapel at 3 p. m.: Song, congregation.

Opening prayer, Dr. H. A. Boaz of Fort Worth.

Music, male quartet.

Address, Dr. W. B. Bizzell, president of the A. & M. College.

Music, College Glee Club.

Address, Col. E. B. Cushing, president of the board of directors of the Young Men's Christian Association.

Dedicatory address, Hon. John H. Kirby of Houston.

Solo, Mrs. George D. Marshall.

Benediction, Rev. Storey, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church of Bryan.

At the Young Men's Christian Association building at 8 p. m.

President's reception.

Address, L. A. Coulter, State secretary of the Young Men's Christian Association.

Sacred concert.

Inspection of the building.

The Federated Christian Charities will meet Monday at 10 o'clock a. m. at Carnegie Hall. Don't forget it. Cards are on sale at all banks and drug stores, The Eagle office, Dixie Theatre and at Leigh's confectionery at College.

OFF TO MARKET.

Eugene Edge, on the corner, left today for New York City to attend the great "Fashion Show," where all the newest and best styles in ladies' ready-to-wear and millinery will be on display. This show at the opening of the spring season is not only for the delectation of New York's thousands and her "Four Hundred," but for the thousands of buyers from all parts of the country who are there at this season of the year. Mr. Edge would have gone to market earlier, but the styles are never settled until after this great display has been given. Mr. Edge expects to show in his selections for this season as usual a large line of perfectly correct millinery, ladies' suits and dresses. He will also purchase a big line of new silks, laces and dress goods for the inspection of the ladies of Bryan and vicinity. He expects to begin shipping these goods out by express daily as soon as he arrives in New York.

The Christian Endeavor will hold a special service at 6:30 p. m. tomorrow. Please take notice and come.

J. C. WELCH, Pastor.
